

fabric wonder

INSPIRED BY ART, HISTORY, NATURE, architecture, and all things intriguing, the Robert Allen Group has long been acknowledged as the source of some of the world's finest fabrics and lauded for its fresh, original and inventive designs.

Robert Allen is a leading fabric house of the international design community with a creative tradition of exploring the directional trends of colour and its subtle nuances. It offers a spectrum of designs ranging from formal to casual and bold to understated, in a comprehensive range of upholstery, multi-purpose, performance and window fabrics, and exceptional trim, among others.

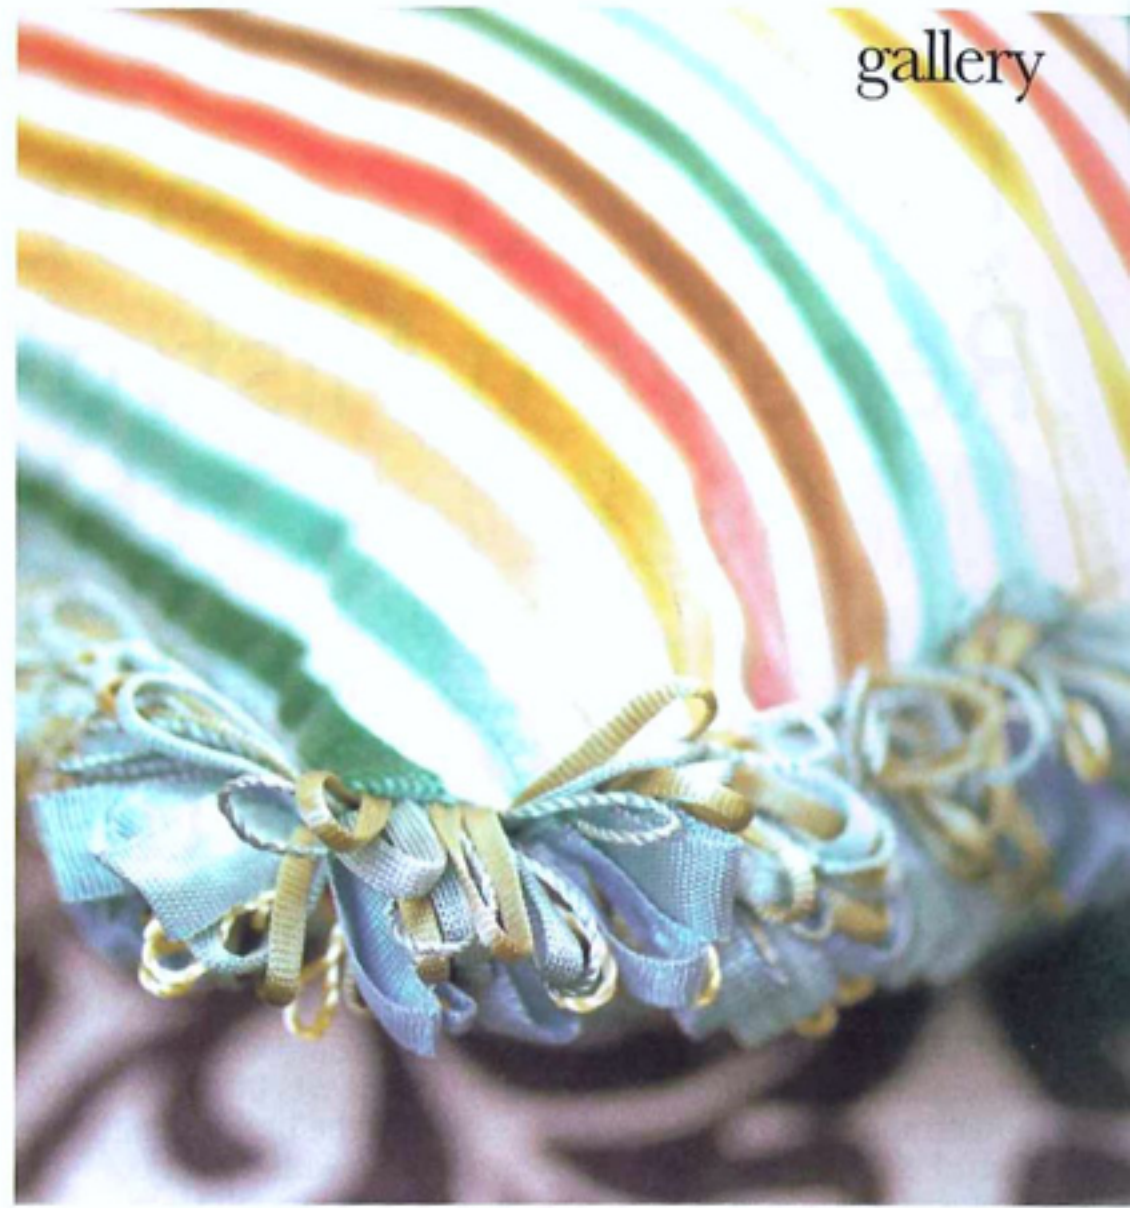

The company's exclusive line — Beacon Hill — is recognised as 'the new American classic'. It is designed for luxury, with a tradition of using refined materials, opulent colours and sophisticated construction to achieve a look of understated elegance.

Robert Allen's memorable Spring collection this year took romance up a notch with inspiration drawn from the sensuous curves of a blooming flower to the glowing brilliance of the midday sun. The buzzwords? Fresh colour combinations; plush textures; soft Boucles; cut-velvets; simply-drawn florals; coloured Raffia; multi-coloured coordinates; and classic frames. Colours took on coral hues, yellowish green, deep browns, and shades of blue.

Taking heed from international trends, next year's colour theme, beginning with its Spring collection, will centre on the colour Green. Expect the same attention to innovation and design, and more exciting and creative possibilities ahead. hc
